Concept

Description of proposed side event, including objective, expected results, proposed programme and speakers* / Description de la réunion parallèle proposée, y compris les objectifs, les résultats attendus, l'ordre du jour et les orateurs* :

Description: The proposed side event will look at ways that intellectual property and innovation can positively influence access issues all along the neglected tropical diseases, TB, and malaria pipelines. It will highlight the need for collaborative innovation in this space, in particular knowledge transfer and repurposing the intellectual assets and expertise housed in organizations around the world.

Objective: To share real-world examples and successes in collaborative innovation for neglected tropical diseases, and to help inform the implementation of the Roadmap on Access to Medicines and Vaccines 2019-2023 by featuring organizations involved in similar activities.

Expected Results: To offer WHO Member States an example of alternative collaboration models to advance NTD science, and an insight into the experiences of the organizations and stakeholders involved.

Speakers:
- Minister of Health of Botswana
- Professor Alistair Craig – Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine
- Relevant representatives from R&D companies
- Timothy Wells, Scientific Director, Medicines for Malaria Venture (MMV)
- John Reeder, Special Programme for Research and Training for Tropical Diseases
- Jennifer Dent, President, BIO Ventures for Global Health

Additional Information: This activity bears direct relevance to the Draft WHO Roadmap on Access to Medicines and Vaccines 2019-2023:
Activity area 1: Research and development for medicines and vaccines that meets public health needs; Support improved capacity for R&D and clinical trials in countries
Activity area 3: Application and management of intellectual property to contribute to innovation and promote public health
