III. Technical briefings

The following technical briefings will take place during the Sixty-seventh World Health Assembly.

Monday, 19 May 2014
12:30–14:15
Room VII

Strengthening health security by implementing the International Health Regulations

There will be interpretation in Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish

The International Health Regulations (IHR) (2005) have been universally accepted as the international foundation for global health security and their central importance has been repeatedly demonstrated. Although many countries do not yet have all required IHR capacities in place, the world is better prepared now than before the adoption of the IHR (2005).

During this technical briefing, WHO, countries and international partners will highlight some of the achievements, remaining challenges, new initiatives and commitments to ensure that the world is able to prevent, detect and respond to all health security risks that may spread internationally.

Tuesday, 20 May 2014
12:30–14:15
Room XII

Quality of care around childbirth: a triple return on investments. Ending preventable maternal and newborn death and stillbirths

There will be interpretation in Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish

As we move towards the MDGs deadline, progress in reducing maternal and neonatal mortality continues. To make real progress towards ending these preventable deaths, attention and resources must be put on quality of care around the time of birth, supported by other strategies across the continuum of care for women and children. In this technical briefing, Member States will have a chance to discuss Every Newborn: an action plan to end preventable deaths. The plan, in the WHA’s agenda for approval, provides a road map for change, targets, and key actions needed to make progress.

This session will also present the new vision emerging for ending preventable maternal mortality, as we look beyond 2015. The ongoing work on the consultations which includes potential targets for maternal mortality at global and national levels, and priority strategies and actions to achieve them, will be shared for discussion by Member States.

Wednesday, 21 May 2014
12:30–14:15
Room XII

Health care under attack: a call for action

There will be interpretation in Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish

Attacks on health-care workers and facilities are increasing, in both conflict and non-conflict settings. The targeting of health-care workers and facilities has grave consequences for the delivery of care and the right to health in such settings.

This session will examine the scale, recent trends and the nature of this problem, discuss common action to address it, and reaffirm the fundamental principles of the sanctity of health-care facilities and safety of health-care workers.
Goals and targets for health in the post-2015 development agenda

There will be interpretation in Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish

The debate on the goals and targets for the post-2015 development agenda is in full swing. Health as a goal appears in a dozen or more multiple processes, such as the Open Working Group of the General Assembly (OWG) and the High-Level Panel of Eminent Persons on the Post-2015 Development Agenda. The United Nations General Assembly will discuss the OWG report in September 2014.

This technical briefing will provide an overview of the current processes and the role of health in them, and gather views from Member States about the possible health goals, sub-goals and targets.

The role of priority setting in universal health coverage: the value of international support for Health Intervention and Technology Assessment

There will be interpretation in Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish

In most low- and middle-income countries (LMICs), achieving universal health coverage (UHC) requires priority setting of the many alternative ways to address health problems, as finance, human resources, medicines/health technologies and facilities are always limited. To support the rational use of resources, health intervention and technology assessment (HITA), including cost-effectiveness analysis, has been widely recognized as offering a useful set of tools to assist the process of establishing priorities.

In this technical briefing, we will share the experiences of Member States, international organizations and development partners in the use of explicit frameworks for priority setting – in order to inform transparent decision-making and facilitate progress towards universal health coverage – as well as discuss the role of WHO and partners in building HITA capacity.
