Primary health care is key to achieving universal health coverage and health for all (lead up to 40th Anniversary of Alma Ata and 2019 General Assembly High-level meeting on UHC)

The 1978 Declaration of Alma-Ata was the first international declaration to advocate for primary health care as the main strategy to achieve WHO's stated goal of health for all. Since then, strong primary care systems, based in local communities, are recognized to be essential to achieving universal health coverage. The core values and principles of the 1978 Declaration of Alma-Ata still stand, and at the Global Conference on Primary Health Care: Towards Health for All, to be held in October this year in Astana, Republic of Kazakhstan the global community is expected to renew the emphasis on primary care as the main driver of people-centred health systems leading to universal health coverage. Making health care truly universal requires a shift from health systems designed around diseases and health institutions towards health systems designed around and for people.

The technical briefing will review lessons learnt on the implementation of primary health care over these past four decades. This will inform the future implementation of primary health care toward universal health coverage in our globalized world.

Wednesday, 23 May 2018

Official launch of the WHO immunization business case for the African continent

While the African continent has made tremendous gains toward increasing access to immunization in the last 15 years, progress has stagnated, leaving one in five African children without access to life-saving vaccines. As a result, vaccine-preventable diseases continue to claim too many lives. On 31 January 2017 at the 28th African Union Summit, Heads of State from across Africa endorsed the Addis Declaration on Immunization (ADI), thereby committing to advance universal access to immunization across Africa, which is a core component of attaining universal health coverage and the Sustainable Development Goals.

In this context, WHO/AFRO and WHO/EMRO jointly developed the WHO immunization business case for the African Continent. This business case has been developed to mobilize sufficient resources for WHO to continue supporting all 54 Member States of the African continent to fully achieve the ADI commitments. During this technical briefing, new frameworks and developments on immunization will be presented including:

- the paradigm change and new approach for immunization as a core component of attaining universal health coverage on the African continent;
- the immunization maturity grid;
- country categorization for the African continent;
- 2030 ambition to save 1.9 million lives; and
- WHO's new value proposition and county-tailored approach, and transformation of the immunization programme.

Health, environment and climate change

The Marrakesh Ministerial declaration released in 2016 at the Twenty-second Conference of the Parties (COP22) mandated WHO, the UN Environment and the World Meteorological Organization (WMO) to convene a global coalition between relevant Ministries, including Ministries of Health and Ministries of Environment, and key UN agencies and stakeholders, to drive forward actions that will reduce the harmful impacts on the environment and climate that affect human health and well-being. The main goal of the coalition is to jointly promote and achieve better management of environmental and climate risks to health. Notably, in its first phase, the coalition is prioritizing immediate actions to reduce the annual 12.6 million deaths caused by environmental risks and is specifically committed to support Member States and stakeholders in their efforts to tackle air pollution.

This interagency technical briefing will:

- enable the heads of agencies and Member States to reconfirm their commitments to support the Health, Environment and Climate Change Coalition (HECCC) in the effort to address the root environmental causes of ill health;
- present a joint action plan for air pollution and detail the scope and purpose of the upcoming first WHO Global Conference on Air Pollution;
- provide a scientific briefing on the state of knowledge on environmental determinants of health, including in relation to the non-communicable disease agenda; and
- report on the achievements of the BreatheLife Campaign.

The role of parliamentarians in achieving universal health coverage and global health security

At least half of the world's population still do not have full coverage of essential health services and over 800 million people face catastrophic health expenditures. Achieving universal health coverage, including for the most marginalized and vulnerable groups of our societies, such as women, children, adolescents and the elderly, is a crucial objective for each and every country. Universal health coverage enables all people to receive the health services they need throughout their lives without suffering financial hardship.

Universal health coverage also includes health promotion and prevention and requires a broad public health approach to strengthening health systems. As the best defence to prevent disease outbreaks from becoming epidemics, and to respond to health emergencies, strong health systems are the best way to safeguard against health crises. In this way, universal health coverage and global health security are two sides of the same coin.

Universal health coverage and global health security are key pillars to the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals, but ultimately they are a political choice. It is the responsibility of every country to pursue them, and parliamentarians have a key role to play in moving national health agendas forward.

This technical briefing will provide an opportunity to hear the voice of parliamentarians and share experiences on concrete actions in terms of legislation, accountability, budget allocation and advocacy. The briefing will also serve to share with parliamentarians the draft thirteenth general programme of work, 2019–2023. The technical briefing is organized in collaboration with the Inter-Parliamentary Union (IPU).

4. Arrangements for conduct of discussion in meetings

Plenary. Theme of general discussion: “Health for All: commit to universal health coverage”

Resolution WHA52.21 on reform of the Health Assembly requested the Director-General to make appropriate arrangements for a shortened plenary meeting and, to this end, encouraged group or regional statements in plenary debate. Delegates are requested to limit their statements to five minutes (550 words) in this debate. Group or regional statements may last up to 10 minutes.

Delegates wishing to have their name placed on the list of speakers for the general discussion should notify the Department for Governing Bodies and External Relations by e-mail (piazza@who.int) or fax +41 22 791 4173.

Copies of statements to be made in the general discussion should be submitted by email (interpret@who.int) or to the Office of the Assistant to the Secretary of the Health Assembly (Room A.656) by the morning of Monday, 21 May 2018. When submitting by email, please specify in the “Subject” and at the top of the statement, the name of the country and the meeting: “General Discussion”.

Other meetings

Interpretation is provided in the official languages (Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish) to help delegates follow the discussions. Delegates are requested to send a copy of statements they plan to make to interpret@who.int or to give a paper copy to the conference officers in the room at least 30 minutes before delivery. This does not prevent delegates from making changes on delivery but will facilitate clarity and accuracy in all languages. Under ‘Subject’ and at the top of the statement please state the name of the country/group, the meeting (e.g. Plenary, Committee A, Committee B, Executive Board) and the relevant agenda item number.

Individual statements in Committees A and B are limited to 3 minutes (330 words) and group statements to five minutes (550 words). Delegates are requested to deliver statements at a normal speaking pace. Rapid delivery risks impeding clarity and accuracy in interpretation. Statements provided in advance are treated as confidential and checked against delivery for the purpose of the official record.

Delegate’s statements for the Health Assembly website

Delegates wishing to have their statements posted on the Health Assembly website http://apps.who.int/gb/e/e\_wha71.html may send it to statements@who.int and include in the subject line of the email the agenda item to which the statement relates. Additional information provided in this manner will not be included in the official record of the meeting.

Non-State actors statements at the Health Assembly

Non-State actors in official relations with WHO may request to speak in Committee A or B of the Health Assembly under a technical item in which they have a particular expertise. Non-State actors wishing to have their name placed on the list of speakers should notify the Secretariat of Partnerships and non-State actors Department (PNA) by email (nsastatements@who.int) latest by 08:00 am of the day of the meeting in question. Non-State actors may submit their statements in advance for the Secretariat to post on a dedicated website and are invited to register at <https://extranet.who.int/nonstateactorsstatements/>. Statements should be limited to 2 minutes (300 words).
