Chairperson,

Brazil would like to thank WHO for the update on the development of the results framework of the Thirteenth General Programme of Work, 2019–2023 (GPW 13).

A framework for measurement and evaluation of the indicators and goals of WHO's work is necessary for enhancing transparency in the collective work of the World Health Organization.

The road to improvement is paved with the impact- and outcome-focused approach now proposed. In preparing and implementing the results framework, Brazil would like to stress the importance of thorough and inclusive consultations with Member States and Regional Offices, in order to ensure that it remains a tool for helping WHO and Member States to advance on promoting the right to health worldwide.
The use of comprehensive case studies and pilot measurement initiatives should help to adapt the Framework to national contexts and priorities, particularly those of developing countries. PAHO has had a huge experience of technical cooperation on this issue, reaching an important and successful roadmap for implementation of the Strategic Plan of the Organization.

Mr Chair,

Low and middle-income countries have already made great steps to strengthen their capacities of reporting. We hope that the new results framework manages to help this work, integrating and catalysing methodologies in the Output Scorecard, with a view to helping the efforts of countries to promote health.

Thank you.
