11. Health in the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development
Déclaration écrite de la délégation suisse

Thank you Chair,

Switzerland reaffirms its commitment to advancing SDG 3 through an appropriate, multisectoral, innovative, and inclusive approach, placing health equity at the center.

Health is a central priority of Switzerland's International Cooperation Strategy 2025–2028. Strengthening health systems and promoting more equitable access to basic health services in low-income countries are at the core of this engagement.

Switzerland's Foreign Policy Health Strategy 2019–2028 provides the strategic framework for its international health engagement, with a clear focus on system resilience and equitable access to services.

At the national level, Switzerland relies on targeted initiatives such as the Swiss Health Network for Equity, which contributes to reducing health inequalities by developing indicators for equitable access to care and defining quality standards.

Switzerland reaffirms its commitment to health systems where quality and performance go hand in hand with equity, ensuring that, in line with the 2030 Agenda, no one is left behind.

We thank you.
